"How about the testimony of Harry Gray, who said he saw Gillespie's feet in your sister's lap?"

"I don't believe him."

Bertha Gowges, eighteen years old, a sister of Mrs. Marshall, corroborated Mrs. McCann. She told of the dinner party, but said she could see no harm in it.

During the testimony Mr. Marshall, who is a man perhaps forty years of age, with florid complexion, blue eyes, red hair and an imperturbable manner, remained perfectly calm, but his wife, tall, thin of visage, with a high forehead, jet black hair, hazel eyes, an aquilline nose and engaging manner, was visibly affected. She didn't appear to relish the talk about herself. The referee's office was packed to suffocation, and, on account of the beat, an adjournment was taken at 2 o'clock until 10:30 a. m. Friday.

Drs. Magnus and Curtis made an autopsy on Kelly's boys and found that he had not been killed by bullets, but had been rundown by a train and the back of his head crushed.

Mayor Strong Gets an Injunction. Mayor Strong's application for an injunction restraining Comptroller Fitch from continuing surface roads from the Harlem to the Bronz was granted by Justice Lawrence of the Suwas kraited by Justice Lawrence of the Su-preme Court yesterday. When the sale was be-gun several months ago, the People's, the Southern Boulevard and the North New York Traction Companies competed for the fran-chise. After a fierce fight the bidding became farcical, and was stopped when it had reached nearly 7,000 per cent of the gross receipts. This injunction postpones the conclusion of the sale matil the matter shall have been finally adjudi-cated by the courts.
